Mrs. Hishop Tells Her Women Heavers About Her System of Exercising Mind, Soul, and Body - Aliving Illustration. The cultivation of grace, strength, and beauty through the medium of psycho-physical culture was the subject presented yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Charles B. Bishop at a drawing-room entertainment in the Hotel Brunswick. The patrons and patronesses of the occasion were oseph Jefferson, E. H. Sothern, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Paimer, Mrs. Barney Williams, Mrs. Ed-win Knowles, Mrs. J. G. Kimball, Mrs. Charles W. Wheeler, Mrs. James Fairman, Mrs. Jennie Croly, Mrs. Charles Barnard, Mrs. Coleman

Adams, and Mrs. C. A. Doremus. Mrs. Bishop is a most convincing exponent of the value of her art, looking at least fifteen years younger than she really is, which happy result she declares has been brought about by the constant exercise of the culture she advocates. Mrs. Hishop imbued the women of her andlence who were not already converts with the desire to become living monuments of the art, and the only two men present were doubtless impressed with the grace and beauty of motion displayed, even though their masculine minds failed to fully comprehend the scientific value of the culture. iven the deferential ushers in swallowtails and white kids were attracted to the open doors of the drawing room and gazed admiringly at Mrs. Bishop when she appeared in her psycho-physical costume of pale pink made with abbreviated skirt over bloomers and very short lace-trimmed sleeves. Pink silk slippers and stockings completed this very pretty costume. Thus attired, Mrs. Bishop illustrated the butterfly fan drill, which followed a monologue en-titled. "From the Grub to the Butterfly." In the latter Mrs. Bishop first appeared as a woman, fat and forty, whose husband's suddealy acquired wealth had raised her from the rough life of California pioneers to a position in Nothing to do and high-living have caused her to become very stout, and she overpears one of her new friends declare that she is 'vulgar looking" and like an "overfed poroise." This rankles in her mind, but she discovers a remedy, and after a year of psychophysical culture she reappears, graceful and slender, and has acquired an ease and repose of manner that turns all her criticising friends green with envy. The fan drill, done to music began with envy. The lan drin, done to intended began with slow, rhythmical motions and poses, and gradually quickened to light, rapid steps recombling ballet movements. A large feather fan was carried in each hand, the waves corresponding to the undulating movements of the fan was carried in each nand, the waves corresponding to the undulating movements of the body.

Mrs. Bishop declared that character was made apparent in the walk of individuals, and amused her audience greatly with illustrations of a variety of characteristic gaits. The high-step walk, the dragging walk, the lazy walk the vain girl's walk, the swinging step, the walk of the successful man and the proud, woman were illustrated, and then Mrs. Bishop said: "Here's the man whose brain is too large for his body; you always see his head coming around the corner away in advance of his body. The feet of the man who lacks brain are seen first coming around the certer. And here is the walk of the woman whose back has settled. Some one said to me, 'Why almost every woman's back settles after she is 40.' Goodness! I think that's dreadful. At 40 a woman should be in her prime—erect, active, and in the best period of intellectual vigor. Many more would be if women understood the laws of their own being and the duty they owe to themselves and the race of which they are the mothers—to properly develop not only their minds, but their bodies and souls as well. Psycho-physical culture teaches you to walk this way," and Mrs. Bishop walked across the platform with a light elastic step and a graceful bearing that called forth much applause.

In presenting the theory of psycho-physical culture, Mrs. Hishop speke of the value of the art which cultivated body, mind, and sout above mere athletic training, which developed only the muscles. "When the soul uplifts a perfectly cultivated mind and body," said she, "then is the perfection of womanhood attained. You must learn to handle your thoughts so that your most constant ones are exalted. Psychophysical culture is exercise of the body sustained by soul force. The perfection of movement is to gain the power of doing things without seeming to hurry. One half of man is expression. That which is most subtle in man or woman hangs out the least sign, And remember, good health and morals are very diosely silied. I hope in the near future women will not spend so much nerve force worrying over fashions and their clothes. It is the duty of every woman to look as pretty as she can, but who would build a temple of crumbling earth and decorate it on the outside with beautiful marble carvings? A few hours a day devoted to cultivating body, mind, and soul would give us perfect womanihood, and upon this foundation the worries and frets of this rapid age would rest far more lightly than they possibly can upon the majority of women to-day. The things that kill us are hurry and worry. Let go of yourself, or, as we say in psycho-physical culture, of a surface and get the blues, put on your hat, take a walk, look about, and say to yourself, 'I own the city,' for you do; you own the sunshine, the pictures, the fresh air, the parks, and the flowers you see just as much as to yourself. 'I own the city,' for you do; you own the sunshine, the pictures, the fresh air, the parks, and the flowers you see just as much as anybody dees. Hum a tune and keep step to the rhythm. I know it is easy to say all things are for the best when everything moves smoothly, and to give advice when we are in the sunshine of happiness, but to bear up bravely and meet cheerfully trials and sorrows is divine, and to this end the cultivation of the perfect womanhoust, the highest development of mind, body, and soul, will help us.

"I do not blame any woman for not wanting to get up and go through a lot of wooden movements, but motion with soul perception back of it becomes beautiful and appeals to you. If you are a woman living alone get some woman who employed by Mrs. Henrictta Phillips of 318 Bedford avenue, Williamsburgh, two months ago. Two weeks atterward Mrs. Phillips missed found under a mattress in the girl's room. She $65 in American money and $200 in Russian rubles were found. The police at the Bedford avenue station took charge of her belongings, Het term expired on Wednesday, and when alse went to get her property she was told that my money belonging to her was in the Property Clerk's necession. She went to the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday and asked Justice Goetting to help her get her maney.

"Yhat was hard carned money," she said, "and I am in need of it just at the present time. The $0.5 in American money I remember went to a lawyer named McCarthy of New York, who was to defend me. I signed an order giving that money to him, but he never appeared for me after he got the money. But I had Russian tankington, and those I am trying to find. I am sare that they were taken from me at the station i ouse. I am in hard luck and need my money."

The Justice promised to make an investiga-tion. At the Redford avenue station house it was said that the only money taken from the woman was the $65, which she sent an order for.

Gov. Flower Asked to Commute "Bat" Shea's Brath Sentence.

ALBANY, Dec. 20.-Numerously signed peti-

were filed with Gov. Flower this afternbon by John T. Norton of Troy and Galets H. Hitt of Albany, setting as counsel, requesting him to commute the sentence of "Bat" Shea from death to imprisonment for life. When asked what action he should take on the application, flow. Flower replied that he understood that flow. Flower replied that he understood that Shea's case was now before the Court of Appeals on an appeal for a new trial, and it was not customary for him to take up for consideration requests for clemency until after all the legal proceedings had been dispassed of. The towernor also declared that, even were the legal proceedings in Shea's case concluded, and the judgment of the hower court was upheld, he had no besitation in saying that from the information now before him, he should never think of catending clemency to the perpetrator of this crime, but would let the law take its course. Shea was convicted of the murder of Robert Ross in Troy.

THE MAFIA AND A VENDETTA. Mucchio Says Both Helped to Get Him

Stabbed-One Assallant Convicted, The General Sessions court room in Jersey City was crowded yesterday with almost the entire populace of Little Italy in Hoboken and a number of Italians from this city. Vincenzo Vallene and Antonia Carapine of Hoboken were on trial for attempting to kill Vincenzio Mucchio of 143 West Forty-third street, Bayonne. The affray occurred on July 26 during a celebration of the feast of St. Anne. Mucchio testified yes-terday that he was in a Hoboken saloon drinking, when he was called outside and the two defendants and Valleno's brother attacked him with stilettos. They were all stabbing him, when Policemen Lahev and Guinan arrived and when Policemen Lahey and Guinan arrived and arrested the defendants. Valleno's brother got away and has not been seen since. It is thought that he has gone back to Italy.

Mucchio declared that the attack was made upon him by the order of the Maña, but he admitted that a vendetta existed between his family and the Vallenos. Lawyers Wils and Archibaid, who appeared for the defence, doubted that Mucchio had been wounded at all. As this was an important feature of the case, Judge Hudspeth decided to have a physical examination made. The jury, the lawyers, and Mucchio were escorted into a private room and Mucchio were escorted into a private room and Mucchio for doubt that he had been stabbed. The policemen testified that when they arrived Mucchio was lying on the sidewalk with three men holding him down. One of the men, whom they identified as Valleno, was stabbing him.

Carapine said that he was merely trying to separate Mucchio and Valleno. The jury believed his story and acquitted him. Valleno was convicted.

MRS. ANDERSON TO GET HER SON.

As a result of the effort made by Mrs. Mary Anderson of Canarsie, L. I., to get her little seven-year-old son, Alfred, away from Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Duvé of 165 East Thirty-first street, with whom he has been living for a year and a half, two men are in fall and one is likely to stay there. One of the men is Duvé and the other is the boy's father.

The boy told Justice Meade in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday that Duvé had kicked him and beaten him with a slipper. Justice Meade believed the story and held Duvé in $300 bail to answer.

After Duvé had been disposed of. Mrs. Anderson said that her husband had neglected long enough to support her. Justice Meade ordered Anderson, who is a waiter, to contribute $6 a week to his wife's support. To make sure that the husband wouldn't forget the obligation, he required Anderson to furnish bonds in the sum of $312. In the event of his inability to furnish the bonds, he will be sent to the Island for six months. Mrs. Asserson searched all day yesterday for bondsmen for her husband, but up to last evening she had not been successful.

Pending the disposition of Duvé's case in Special sessions, the boy Alfred has been given over to the care of the Gerry society. After Duvé's trial, the boy will live with his mother.

An Ex-Policeman and a Hurgiar Fall Fifteen Feet in a Struggle. CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Ex-policeman Cartwright, who was connected with the Despiaines street station, last evening had a hard struggle with a burgiar, during which the two men fell from the roof of a one-story house at 15 Meridian street to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet. The ex-policeman was comparatively uninjured, but the burgiar fell underneath and sustained broken ribs and internal injuries which may be broken ribs and internal injuries which may be fatal.

Policeman Sheridan was passing the carpenter shop of E. Haisman, 13 Meridian street, when he saw a window had been broken. He called Cartwright, who went to the rear. He saw the man climbing from a wholow in the second story to the roof of the one-story building adjoining. Cartwright followed and grappled with him. No foothold could be gained on the sloping roof and the men gradually drew nearer the edge. The burgiar tried to throw Cartwright over, but he clung to his prisoner and together they fell over the edge.

FOUGHT HER CAPTOR.

The Bloomingdales' Woman Detective Proved Too Strong for the Shoplifter. THE DRINK PROBLEM. A Countities of Sjity to Ascertain the Country's Views Thereon.

President Seth Low of Columbia College and forty-nine other men representing d Terent com-munities and occupations have sent all over the country letters like the following:

"Washington, D. C., Dec. 10, 1894. "DEAR SIR: As you will see by the enclosed memorandum a committee of fifty, of which Seth Low of Columbia College, New York, is President, is engaged in the study of the liquor problem. Among the questions which seem important in connection with the work of the aub-committee on the physiological and patho-logical aspects of the drink problem there may mentioned the following:
"1. Is the regular consumption of a moderate quantity of whiskey, wine, or beer conductive to the maintenance of health and working power in any class of men? If so, in what class, and what is the average quantity thus useful?

"2. What is the quantity of whiskey, wine, or beer which the average man in good health may consume daily without special risk of injuring his health? Does this vary in connection with variations of age, of climate, or of occupation, and what are those variations?

"The committee is fully aware of the difficulty of securing trustworthy evidence with regard to these questions, but still ventures to hope that, to these questions, but still ventures to hope that, if the objects and methods commend themselves to the intelligence of the community an attempt to collect statistical information will not be wholly fruitiess. With this object in view, the questions on the enclosed form are addressed to a large number of men in various parts of the country who are above forty years of age, and are engaged in mental work of a high class. The list includes the names of judges, lawyers, scientific and medical men, bankers, financiers, managers of corporations, &c.

"If you are willing to contribute the result of your personal experience to the solution of the problem you are earnestly requested to answer the questions on the enclosed sheet, and return the same at your earliest conyonience to Dr.

your personal experience to the solution of the problem you are earnestly requested to answer the questions on the enclosed sheet, and return the same at your earliest convenience to Dr. John S. Billings. Army Medical Museum, Washington, D. C., for which purpose an envelope is enclosed. The answers thus received will be used in the compilation of statistical tables, but the individual reports will be held strictly confidential; they need not be signed, and no names will be given in any case."

The other officers of this committee beside President Low are Charles Dudley Warner, Vice-President Low are Charles Dudley Warner, vice-President Prof. Francis G. Feabody, Secretary; William E. Dodge, Treasurer. The Executive heard consists of the abo -named officers and Dr. J. S. Billings, President C. W. Elliot, Col. Jacob L. Greene, and Gen. Francis A. Walker. President Low said vesterday that this committee has been working for several months and hopes from these letters to obtain valuable statistics. It is the aim to secure a body of facts relating to the medical, legislative, ethical, and economic aspects of the liquor question, which will serve as a basis for intelligent, public, and private action.

With these letters are enclosed blank forms, on which are printed the following questions:

"I. Age. 2. Occupation. 3. Are you a total abstainer? 4. If so, have, you always been so? 5. Do you drink spirits, wine, or beer occasionally as a social function, but not daily? 6. Do you drink spirits, wine, or beer every day as a matter of habit? If so, please state the kind and the amount of liquor thus consumed. If affirmative answers are given to either of the last two questions please state whether any particular form of alcoholic drink is in your case found to be specially desirable or undesirable.]

7. Are you aware of any chronic disturbance of your health; and if so, what is its nature? 8. Give any facts derived from your personal experience which will throw light on the problems under investigation."

THE CHURCH BUILDING FUND. Two Hundred and Seventy Congregations Alded in Twelve Years.

At a meeting of the American Church Building Fund Commission, held at the Mission's house on Wednesday, $4.500 was loaned to St. John's Church at Galesburg, Ill. The congregation is began the work, twelve years ago, it has aided 270 churches with loans of amounts ranging as high as $20,000. The Commission has reason to believe that in 200 of these cases no edifice could have been built without this assistance.

The fund has been materially increased the past year in spite of the hard times. Last sum-mer it reached the quarter-million mark. It is sed to increase this ultimately to $1,000,-The Commission received recently its 000. The Commission received recently its largest bequest in money, $10,000, under the will of Charles Scott of St. Paul's Church, Washington. Another recent bequest is $2,316, from George H. Gill of St. Louis. The amount of contributions for the last fiscal year exceeds that of the preceding year by more than $41,000. The Commission has nine memorial funds. The largest of $50,000, is dedicated to Hisbor Robertson by Willard E. Winner of Kausas City.

What Became of This Olec nargarine!-Missing Diamond Rings,

Collector Kilbreth sent word yesterday to J. M. Cebalios & Co., 80 Wall street, requesting them to appear before him to-day and explain a transaction in eleomargarine. The company operates a line of steamships between New York and West Indian ports. Oleomargarine pays an internal revenue tax, which is remitted when it is exported. The report submitted to the Collector, on which he wants light, is that a large quantity of olcomargarine was with nawn from quantity of olcomargarine was wither awn from bond and put aboard the steamship Habana of the company's line and that the olcomargarine was subsequently discovered to be on the company's dock after the Habana had sailed.

For a number of months jeweiry has disappeared from the jeweiry division in the Appraiser's stores. Several diamond rings have been missed. Mr. Hinneywell is chief examiner, and he has an assistant named Krebs. On Oct. 25 a diamond ring was missing when a package was handed to Krebs for examination. The Collector had Krebs before him yesterday. Others in the Appraiser's stores were examined, especially Clerks O'Nelli and Campbell. Their testimony and Krebs's was contradictory, including as to the efforts to trace the ring after it was known to be gone. The Collector reserved his decision.

The Morses Knew What the Trolley Car Gong Means.

A team pulling a loaded farmer's wagon on the way to the Wailabout Market went slowly along the car tracks in Broadway, Williamsburgh, last night. The driver was asleep. A car came up technical the wagon. The motorman pulsed the gong vigorously. The team turned cut of the tracks while the driver k-pt on alumbering. When the car passed the team returned to the tracks.

"You can see that every night," said a policeman. "The teams are just as intelligent as the driver himself. When once the farmer reaches Broadway, and be known he has an intelligent team, he feels as a and goes to sleep. The horses know the ring of the trolley cars, and know just what it mesma."

FEW KNOW ABOUT THE SHAKERS OF MOUNT LEBANON.

We do not believe in their peculiar religious views. We cannot enter into the spirit of their sacrifices, and therefore we don't study their habits of life. It is not necessary to believe as they do, nor to act as they do, but we can and do respect their honesty of purpose, both as far as their prin-ciples are concerned and their worldly deeds, Almost every prominent man has some one specialty in which he excels, especially if he has devoted his life to its study and development.

In one particular the Shakers excel above all others, and above all other men or classes of men. This is in the cultivation of medicinal herbs and plants. They have made this a study for more than one hundred years. They are also expect in extracting from them their peculiar essences and medicinal virtues.

This is their peculiar industry. Their lives have been devoted to it. By it they are supported. They excel in this branch as do the Monks of the Order of Benedictines with their famous liquenr.

Now, this lifelong study on the part of the Shakers has not been in vain. They have accomplished much good. Their medicinal extracts and cordials are known throughout the world. In one particular the Shakers excel above all word. The Shaker Directive Cordial is probably the most successful article ever given to the public. It is not a cure for all diseases: it doesn't pretend to be; but one disease it will cure, and that is indigestion. It is not pretended that it will care anything else, and a sufferer has not long to anything else, and a sufferer has not long to wait to see the result.

Almost the first dose will give relief, and, if continued, a permanent cure will follow. The Sheker motto is: To try all things and hold fast to that which is good. For this reason the Sinkers have put into the hands of the retail druggists who sell their Digestive tordini small trial bottles which can be had for 10 cents each, so that for this small sum the reader can know if the Digestive Cordial is adapted to his case.

M'GLYNN'S RESTORATION

Dr. Burtseit Deales That He Has Recanted

the Boetrines of Henry George, KINGSTON, Dec. 20,-Dr. Richard L. Burtsell, rector of St. Mary's Church, when he read the item printed in the New York papers to-day to the effect that Dr. McGlynn was no longer and apostle of the anti-poverty doctrine, which brought about his excommunication, and that he has written to Archbishop Corrigan asking New York, pronounced the statement untrue. He said that Dr. McGlynn had not recanted the doctrines of Henry George. He also de-nied the reports that Dr. McGlynn's restoration to the Church after his excommunication was not complete, and that it was generally understood that his announced perseverance in the promulgation of his belief was not helping him to become again a regularly established rector. Dr. Burisell made the following statement:

"Dr. McGiynn, from the day he was relieved of excommunication by Mgr. Satolil, was a priest in good standing in the diocese of New York, and, simply by his own wish, no proposition was made to have him appointed to any particular locality. Mgr. Satolil gave him a letter recommending him to all the Bishops of the country, suggesting that he should be allowed to exercise his rights as a minister in any diocese he might be in for the time being. It was always understood, however, that Dr. McGlynn had no thought of severing his connection with the diocese of New York, to which he belonged. Mgr. Satolil at that time declared positively that Dr. McGlynn's teachings on the land question were not in any sense contrary to the doctrines of the Church, and that he was free to maintain them as any would be to assail them, because they were merely a question of political economy. It was entirely by Dr. McGlynn's own volition that any application for a local position was postponed until the present time." not complete and that it was generally under-

BRIDGEPORT, Pec. 21.-All the wires, poles, crossbars, and other property of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in this State were attached to-day in a suit for $10,000 damages brought by B. F. Squire and his wife Mary of the town of Monroe, in this county. The corporation is organized under the laws of the State of New York, and its principal offices the State of New York, and its principal offices are at 18 Cortlandt street. New York. The line of poles, on which are strung about fifty wires, and known as the long-distance line, extends across this State, running through the counties of Fairfield. New Haven, and Hartford.

The claim for damages is based upon the alleged negligence of the servants of the defendants in leaving a large pile of old wires that had been removed from the poles near the highway in the town of Monroe, at which the horse which Mrs. Squire was driving on her way to church one Sunday in November last took fright and ran away. She and her daughter were thrown out of the carriage, both narrowly escaping death. Mrs. Squire, it is claimed, is injured permanently.
